

I'm already engaged in community service. Does Edwards School of Business expect me to do something else to accept the Centennial Citizenship Challenge?

Thank you for being involved in your community! We request only that you dedicate what you are already doing to Edwards 100. Take a picture and share your efforts with us.

But the community service I do seems so small. How significant does my project have to be to count?

We want to recognize all acts of service, regardless of size! Let us know what you're doing. Even small acts of service have a large impact.

How can I share my project with you?

You can share your pictures and stories by clicking the SUBMIT button at the top of the Citizenship Challenge webpage

If possible, incorporate a sign about the centennial. The sign may be handmade or you can print one out.

If I volunteer with children under age 18 or persons with a disability, do I need to be aware of procedures for protecting their right of privacy?

It is recommended you secure a photo release. If you perform the service in a K-12 school, check with the school administration to ensure that you comply with their policies.

I'd like to get involved, but I'm not sure what to do. What are other people doing?

Our alumni and students are involved in variety of activities. Some act as mentors, sit on non-profit boards, coach sports, volunteer within community organizations; the list is endless!

Any suggestions that have less of a time commitment?

Certainly! Below are some of the ideas we've come up with to get you started:

- Speak at an Edwards Business Students' Society event
- Volunteer for a community event
- Lead a group in cleaning up a section of highway
- Volunteer at a food bank or soup kitchen, or organize a group to volunteer with you
- Become a class rep for the Edwards All Years Reunion
- Raise money for the charity of your choice
- Run or walk for charity

There are many other things you could do. Be creative and have fun!

I remember what being a student was like, and I'd like to help current students. Could I help raise money for a centennial scholarship at Edwards?

Of course! Check out the options on our website, donate online, or contact Rae at \(306\) 966-7471966-7471).

I met some good friends at Edwards and I'd like to reconnect. Could I organize a meeting for Edwards alumni and friends in my area?

Yes! A meeting of alumni can help rekindle that great Saskatchewan spirit. And we can help! Contact Shawna for assistance at \(306\) 966-7539966-7539) or jardine@edwards.usask.ca.

This all sounds great and I'd love to be supportive, but I have no time right now for direct service. Can I make a monetary contribution instead?

Yes, you can. You can donate on our website or contact Rae at \(306\) 966-7471966-7471) for more details.
